

Writing a Persuasive Argument

© Scott Foresman 4

Supporting an Opinion

Directions: Write your opinion on the lines. Then record facts, reasons and examples that support your opinion. Finally, choose the most persuasive fact, reason, or example and write it on the lines at the bottom of the page.

I think that _____

Facts

Reasons

Examples

Most persuasive fact, reason, or example: _____

Writing a Persuasive Argument

Supporting an Opinion

Directions: Write your opinion on the lines. Then record facts, reasons and examples that support your opinion. Finally, choose the most persuasive fact, reason, or example and write it on the lines at the bottom of the page.

I think that our class should choose The Great Ideas of Lila Fenwick for a classroom read-aloud.

Facts

The Great Ideas of Lila Fenwick is a humorous book.

It is about kids our age.

It is about things that could really happen.

Reasons

I want to find out what else happens to the characters.

Everyone in the class liked the first chapter.

Examples

Our class really enjoyed hearing Frindle.

Most persuasive fact, reason, or example: Everyone in the class liked the first chapter.

My Great Idea

What will Lila Fenwicks next great idea be? I think that our class should chose The Great Ideas of Lila Fenwick as the next read-aloud book.

The book is funny. Can you picture Lila crawling around the classroom acting like a guinee pig or falling over as she is giving her report on brazil. It is about kids our age. It is about things that could really happen.

This is the most important reason we should choose the book. We all liked Chocolate Is Missing the first chapter. I want to find out what happens to Lila, Gayle and the other characters don't you.

Another reason to choose this book is that it reminds me of Frindle we enjoyed that book.

My Great Idea

What will Lila Fenwicks next great idea be? I think that our class should chose The Great Ideas of Lila Fenwick as the next read-aloud book.

First of all,

The book is funny. Can you picture Lila crawling around the classroom acting like a guinee pig or falling over as she is giving her report on brazil. Also, It is about kids our age. and It is about things that could really happen.

This is the most important reason we should choose the book. is that We all liked Chocolate Is Missing the first chapter. I want to find out what happens to Lila, Gayle and the other characters don't you.

Another reason to choose this book is that it reminds me of Frindle we enjoyed that book.

Proofreading Marks
Take Out	↷
Small Letter	/
Spelling	○
Capital Letter	≡
New Paragraph	⌘

My Great Idea

What will Lila Fenwick's next great idea be? I think that our class should choose The Great Ideas of Lila Fenwick as the next read-aloud book.

First of all, the book is funny. Can you picture Lila crawling around the classroom acting like a guinea pig or falling over as she is giving her report on brazil. Also, it is about kids our age and it is about things that could really happen.

This is the most important reason we should choose the book is that "We all liked Chocolate Is Missing the first chapter. I want to find out what happens to Lila, Gayle and the other characters don't you."

Another reason to choose this book is that it reminds me of Frindle we enjoyed that book.

My Great Idea

What will Lila Fenwick's next great idea be? I think that our class should choose The Great Ideas of Lila Fenwick as the next read-aloud book.

First of all, the book is funny. Can you picture Lila crawling around the classroom acting like a guinea pig or falling over as she is giving her report on Brazil? Also, it is about kids our age and about things that could really happen.

Another reason to choose this book is that it reminds me of Frindle. We enjoyed that book.

The most important reason we should choose the book is that we all liked "Chocolate Is Missing," the first chapter. I want to find out what happens to Lila, Gayle, and the other characters, don't you?

